Domestic workers in Oman to get health cover

MUSCAT: Domestic workers in Oman will also be covered under the mandatory health insurance scheme that was confirmed by Ahmed Al Mualimi, Assistant Undersecretary of the Social Insurance Sector, Capital Market Authority (CMA), during a meeting as part of the campaign for the launch of Standard Health Insurance Policy.

“A special insurance policy will be issued for domestic workers to provide them with appropriate health, care with regard to cost and quality,” he said. Although he did not divulge detailed information on the policy, the indication is that it will be launched in line with the unified Standard Health Insurance Policy by the end of this year.

He said that the government’s policy is to implement the scheme to provide healthcare for national and expatriate workers in line with the advanced medical technology. “This will be implemented through partnership with the private sector to form an integrated system regulating the relationship between the parts involved in the health insurance represented by domestic insurance companies, private health services and the beneficiaries of the scheme,” he added.

According to data from National Center for Statistics and Information, the number of the domestic workers on the job during different jobs stands at 231,149 at the end of this year. This includes 57,354 females and 29,257 male workers. According to Al-Mualimi, “Dhaiman” would contribute to improving in the health sector through the expected demand.

“We expect the entry of more quality private health institutions with regard to competent medical cadres and treatment systems, which would contribute to expansion of the health services in Oman,” he said.

ABU DHABI: Long-term residency visas and greater flexibility for retirees would be among the highlights in the proposal to vest their savings in the UAE.

The visa reforms in National Health Insurance will be extended to government for families, visitors, expats and investors, a clear indication that the UAE is keen on continuing with its drive to make the country a permanent home for expats and to attract more businesses investments.

Under the new reforms that were announced last month, women, divorced or widowed women and their children are granted a one-year residence visa extension. The new rules also allow one-year residency extension of duplicate visas for dependents who have finished their university studies and visit visas holders can apply for a 30-day extension for two times without leaving the country. Just last month, the UAE Cabinet’s Agenda Support Committee had adopted a decision to amend provisions of the UAE immigration law, which will create new classes of visas for highly-skilled workers and investors; it has created more certainty for expatriates and investors and will make them stay longer in the country.

“The visa reforms in this law are expected to encourage residents, entrepreneurs and investors to do business in the UAE; all professionals to buy homes and spend more on other properties because they now feel that the UAE is their permanent home. The changes were intended at providing the best service for expats and creating an environment as possible as it’s keen on retaining a global incubator for exceptional talents and a permanent destination for international investors. Saudi Arabia unveils Expo 2020 Dubai pavilion design

RIYADH: The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia unveiled the design of its pavilion at the Expo 2020 World Fair, which will be second in size after the US pavilion, covering an area the size of two football pitches.

The distinctive and memorable pavilion symbolizes the country’s unique character, long heritage, and unlimited dreams. The landmark pavilion will be a first of its kind in Saudi Arabia and a highlight of Expo 2020 Dubai, delivering a promising future, said Rituparna Al Tuwaijri, Ministry of Investment.

This extraordinary and innovative design perfectly depicts Saudi Arabia’s participation in Expo 2020 Dubai. "All Saudis can be proud of the vision that this ground-breaking pavilion will deliver to the world, and we look forward to inviting global citizens to share in the exciting story of our thriving and vibrant society,” Al Tuwaijri added.

Construction of the pavilion, designed by Buro Happold Associates, began in early 2019. The structure will be instantly recognizable to visitors to the Expo site and a point of attraction that will spark their interest to explore further.

To date, 190 nations have confirmed their participation in Expo 2020. Organisers have projected a visitor footfall of 25 million visitors between 20, October 2020 and 10 April, 2021, with 70 per cent of visitors projected to come from outside the UAE - the highest proportion of international visitors in the 180-year history of World Expos.

The advisory pointed out that “the most recent examples of such universities are the University of Northern New Jersey set up by the US government agencies to identify recruiters and employers of the same and to come to the US.”

In both cases, the embassy said, “a number of Indian students enrolled in universities were accused of having violated the US immigration laws and of knowingly remaining enrolled in a fake university for the sole purpose of staying in the US without the intention of attending an academic activity.”

Due diligence

Thus, the embassy counselled: “In order to ensure that Indian students do not fall into such traps, it is important that due diligence be exercised while seeking admission in US universities. In this context, the sole objective of such operations is to identify recruiters and entities engaged in immigration-related fraud in the US, the embassy said. The advisory pointed out that “in recent years, instances of fake universities set up by US law enforcement agencies are on the rise, and to come to the US.”

India’s attorneys have been indicted for visa fraud, and are subject to deportation to the US. The embassy said: “We are seeing this positively in the ongoing trend, he added. “Changes in the law could potentially reverse the trend in the near future.”

The advisory said: “Before seeking admission into such universities, students and their parents should verify the authenticity of the university. It is important that students and their families verify that the university is legitimate and has a valid accreditation from the relevant government bodies.”

This is dependent on each company’s policy.

NEW DELHI: Reliance Jio, the telecom arm of Reliance Industries Limited (RIL), launched its own JioApps News, a web-based service, timing the product launch with the Lok Sabha and Assembly Elections 2019, it said.

The advisory also emphasized that “the fact that a university is US government agencies or US authorities such as its inclusion in the Student Exchange Program (SEVP), is not an indicator of a bona-fide university.” Consequently, the advisory said: “Before seeking admission in a university, students are advised to take into account several other factors and outlined these criteria in particular, which were:

1. Does the university have a faculty and regular instructors/educators?
2. If not, admissions to such universities may be considered as a doubtful case in respect of Indian students.
3. The advisory said: “Before seeking admission into such universities, students and their parents should verify the authenticity of the university. It is important that students and their families verify that the university is legitimate and has a valid accreditation from the relevant government bodies.”

UK experts join Indian medics to combat surgical infection threat

LONDON: UK experts joined Indian medics to combat surgical infection threat.

Experts from the University of Birmingham have tied up with medical professionals in India to set up an innovative research initiative that will help improve care for surgical patients. The University’s joint research team, involving the UK’s National Institute for Health Research Global Health Research Unit on Global Surgery (NIRGS), travelled to recently to launch the first-ever surgical research hub in India at Christian Medical College and Hospital (CMCH) in Ludhiana and deliver a training workshop.

“Each year, 4.2 million people die within 30 days of operations, half of those infections occurring in low-and-middle income countries such as India. Surgical Site Infection (SSI) is the most common surgical complication and this workshop represents an important step forward in reducing SSI in India and other countries,” said NIRGS’ Clinical Research Fellow Dr Dinitri Nepogodiev. “SSI is a catastrophic impact on patients in India, driving many people into poverty as they struggle to work and pay healthcare bills. Reducing SSI has huge benefits as patients are not subjected to another surgery, whilst being able to return to work or school.”

The technology portal, he said: “Above all, JioApps News will perform its own clinical trials in India to evaluate access to healthcare and to determine the impact of post-surgical infection.”

“JioApps News is a surgical trial to look at new surgical techniques in India. It is the first studies to be launched in India and has an all-India presence. The trial will be led by the joint India-UK team from the University of Birmingham,” said Dr Dinitri Nepogodiev. “We are delighted to link up with such experts in surgery.”

NEW DELHI: India Post’s Post Office RD schemes will have to be paid in multiples of five. There is no minimum or maximum amount you can invest every month. The minimum investment against which tax benefits are available is Rs 10,000. If you invest in multiple accounts, the combined total of all accounts has to be maintained at Rs 1,000,000.

While a lower minimum investment is a positive for post-office RDs, banks offer flexibility in the monthly installments when you opt for a flexi RD, which is not the case with post-office RDs. However, if you open the flexi RD on the date of the first instalment, the recurring deposit will be automatically discontinued in six months, unlike banks which offer a wide range of tenure from 6 months to 10 years. One can, however, choose to extend it in periods of five years.

There is no limit on the maximum number of post-office RD accounts that one can have as an individual. Post-office RDs can be opened in the name of an individual who is a minor of 18 years or above. Customers get a choice to continue with the account if they choose to pay a minimum of Rs 1,000 per installment for six instalments in advance. For example, if the total instalment for six months is Rs 20,000, they need to pay only Rs 3,333 per month. For a penalty payment of Rs 27 installments, the penalty is Rs 4pc.

For post-office RDs it is five, unlike banks which charge Rs 650 for every missed payment. The penalty fee, before paying the fur- ther instalment, will have to be paid in multiples of five. There are several conditions you need to fulfill before you can get employment or start a startup business by paying the penalty fee, before paying the fur- ther instalment, will have to be paid. F ood insecurity – lim-ing a person’s access to sufcient food – is directly linked to child nutrition, which in turn impacts the learning ability of adolescents in India and has a direct effect on their growth and development. Researchers from BITS Pilani’s Goa campus, Indian Statistical Institute, and Indian Institutes of Technology Roorkee, have established the link between childhood and youth food insecurity and adult health outcomes.

The research team, led by Dr. Sheetal Vora, a professor of economics at BITS Pilani, and Dr. Aniruddha Bhalerao, an assistant professor at the Indian Institutes of Technology Roorkee, conducted a study to understand the long-term effects of childhood and youth food insecurity on adult health outcomes.

The study was conducted using data from the National Sample Survey Organization (NSSO) and the National Family Health Survey (NFHS), which are large-scale surveys conducted by the government of India to collect data on various aspects of the population, including health, nutrition, and education.

The research team found that childhood and youth food insecurity had a significant impact on adult health outcomes. Child food insecurity was associated with a 13% increase in the risk of obesity and a 20% increase in the risk of diabetes in adulthood. Youth food insecurity was associated with a 10% increase in the risk of hypertension and a 25% increase in the risk of diabetes in adulthood.

The study also found that the impact of food insecurity on adult health outcomes was stronger for girls than for boys. This suggests that girls are more vulnerable to the long-term effects of childhood and youth food insecurity.

The research team recommended that policymakers and stakeholders develop interventions to prevent childhood and youth food insecurity and to mitigate the long-term effects of food insecurity on adult health outcomes.

The study was published in the journal Economic and Political Weekly. The research team plans to conduct further studies to understand the mechanisms through which childhood and youth food insecurity affect adult health outcomes and to develop effective interventions to prevent and mitigate the long-term effects of food insecurity.
Can my wife sponsor me (husband) and pay my rent? Can I claim a monthly salary of Dh70,000 total? What is the law when hiring spouses working for their husbands?

It is understood that your wife is a professional with a monthly salary of Dh70,000. There is a clear distinction between cases where someone is hired by their employer on a fixed-term contract and someone on an unlimited contract. While the former case must be legally regulated, the latter faces less legal consequences. Therefore, the majority of cases are handled on a voluntary basis, with both parties having a mutual agreement.

In case of disagreement, both parties shall be entitled to request the cancellation of the contract or to submit a complaint with the Ministry of Human Resources and Emiratisation, either directly or in any office accredited by the Ministry. However, the Ministry reserves the right to accept or reject the request.

Indian Embassies assure passport guidelines are hijab-friendly

Abu Dhabi: Indian Embassy has confirmed reports by the BLS to insist Muslim women should show their ears in photograph for visa application. However, no new guidelines have been issued.

Freezing account

I have returned home after spending three months abroad. I have a bank account which has been frozen. Is it normal that such a customer is leaving his job so it is unusual that the account was not frozen as per the event the HR policy formulated by the employer is not in accordance with Employment Law, then such HR policy shall be null and void. The employer should consider the freedom of the employee to make a new bank account. The employer should freeze the account when he is ready to accept my resignation. I have not been paid in two months, and I have not received any notice from the employer.

Notice period

I work in Dubai on a limited contract. I am planning to leave the company by giving a notice period of one month but my contract says the notice period is three months with another company and have to start in one month's time. My boss said he is not ready to accept my resignation but I have not been paid for three months. What can I do?

Cheque payment

I gave my bank the amount for security of an amount for a money they lent me a few weeks ago. I have now paid back nearly Dh30,000 of the money and will pay the rest soon. I asked my friend to transfer the amount to their account. I have been asked for that amount. He said so, I want to know should I make him give me the cheque back? Or can I ask to not cash it if he tries to pay it in?

This is a tricky situation and unless the cheque is new, I cannot accept your description of the cheque you have given. It may be a genuine cheque or a false cheque. I would suggest you to keep all the receipts and to ask your friend to provide you with a receipt. You can also contact the bank to verify the cheque. If the cheque is not genuine, you can report it to the police.
