Tourism faces uncertainty in Sri Lanka

The US has revised its travel advisory for Sri Lanka, warning of further possible terrorist attacks, while other nations such as Australia also remain on alert, backing disturbing memories of Pakistan’s own history of terrorism. After 2 years of Pakistan’s zero-tolerance policy, it is feared that without expanding it India may become a haven for terrorists.

Dubai plans new visa exemptions ahead of Expo 2020

Dubai: The UAE is continuing to appraise coun- tries for potential visa-on-arrival agreements of establishing their residence in Dubai. Tourism chief said. Rao, senior vice president – corporate affairs of Dubai Tourism, said that the UAE was still pushing for visa-on-arrival agreements of setting up their residence in Dubai. Some 40,000 visitors are expected to take part in the event, taking place at the Dubai World Trade Centre. Another bilateral coopera- tion with India was being finalised, Rao said in the interview.

“We remain focused on deepening and expanding our cooperation with our network of industry partners,” the official said in statement.

IISc takes lead in helping startups, MSMEs

BENGALURU: Taking a cue from the hype success industry-academia collaboration, the Indian Institute of Science (IISc), Bangalore and its entrepreneurship ecosystem have emerged as one of the most promising innovation hubs in the country. A survey of more than 100 Indian universities and educational institutions. 2018, showed that these universities had 35 million higher education institutions. The world's top-ranked universities, according to the latest rankings, have almost doubled in strength in recent years. The growth of the education sector is expected to continue at a rapid pace, driven by increasing demand for higher education, especially in emerging economies.

However, it isn't all rosy. The changing landscape is making it increas- ingly mobile-first outlook for the consumers. The growth of mobile internet users in India has been staggering, with over 900 million users as of September 2018. This growth, however, has not been evenly distributed, with a significant portion of the population still using basic mobile phones. The need for relevant and user-friendly mobile applications is growing exponentially, and the education sector is no exception. Many educational institutions are leveraging mobile technologies to enhance learning experiences, offering personalized learning paths, and providing real-time feedback to students. This is especially important in the current context of the COVID-19 pandemic, where online learning has become a necessity for many students and educators.

With the advent of online learning platforms and the increasing use of mobile devices, there is an urgent need for educational institutions to adapt and remain competitive. The IISc ecosystem provides a great platform for students and educators to learn and grow together, creating a vibrant and innovative learning environment. The university's commitment to excellence and innovation is reflected in its strong focus on research and development, as well as its dedication to fostering a culture of entrepreneurship and innovation. The IISc ecosystem is a testament to the university's vision of creating a world-class education and research institution that is responsive to the needs of society and the global community.

In conclusion, the IISc ecosystem is a shining example of how universities can collaborate with industry to create a dynamic and thriving innovation ecosystem. The university's commitment to excellence, innovation, and entrepreneurship is driving positive change in the education sector, and the impact of this ecosystem is likely to continue to grow in the years to come.
FIEO MoU with Welingkar for supporting startups in exports

The MoU was inked by Khalid M Khan, Regional Chairman, FIEO (WR) and Dr Uday Salunkhe, Group Director, WeSchool.

World’s first malaria vaccine launched in Africa

The world’s first malaria vaccine has been launched in Africa. The vaccine is called RTS,S and is given to protect the children of Malawi to protect 360,000 children under two in Malawi from malaria.

The RTS,S vaccine works by creating an immune response in the body to fight off malaria.

The vaccine is particularly effective against Plasmodium falciparum, the most prevalent strain of malaria in Africa.

The vaccine was developed by the Oxford University疟疾研究小组 and was tested in a large clinical trial in Malawi.

The vaccine has been shown to reduce the risk of malaria by 34% in the first year after vaccination.

Stress increases risk of heart disease

Stress is shown to be a major risk factor for heart disease. The stress can be due to mental or physical factors.

Stress can lead to increased blood pressure, which over time can damage the blood vessels and lead to heart disease.

The study found that people under high stress levels were more likely to develop heart disease.

Our study included only people with a diagnosed stress disorder. "Hain song, the lead author and a postdoctoral researcher at the University of Montreal, emphasized. "Stress can have serious consequences for physical and mental health.

High blood pressure is a serious problem and can lead to heart disease. It is important to manage stress to reduce the risk of heart disease.

One way to manage stress is to get regular exercise. Exercise can help to reduce stress levels and improve overall health.

Another way to manage stress is to practice relaxation techniques such as meditation or yoga. These techniques can help to reduce stress and improve mental health.

It is important to seek professional help if you are experiencing stress-related problems. A healthcare provider can help to identify and manage stress-related issues.

Xiaomi eyes 10K retail stores in India

The Chinese smartphone maker is also launching a new premium brand experience store 'Mi Studio' in India. The first two Mi Studios are already launched in Bengaluru and Mumbai, and more than 15 stores are under the franchise development.

Mi Studios will be follow-up, giving its aggressive stance on offline expansion. A few Mi Homes are owned by Xiaomi and franchise-operated but the rest are under the franchise development and the startup ecosystem in the country.

The first two Mi Studios have been set up in Bengaluru, and Mumbai, with an average size of 400-450 square feet. Talking about Mi Studios, Jain said the company has been giving the offline experience, he said Xiaomi is committed to the Indian market and is pumping in funds across manufacturer, product development and the startup ecosystem in the country.

The company also launched its Redmi Y3 in India, priced at Rs 9,999 onwards. The handset - which is billed as the world's first 48MP camera smartphone - features a 6.39-inch full HD+ FullView display and is powered by an octa-core Snapdragon 665 processor.

Xiaomi also unveiled its Redmi 7 for Rs 7,999 onwards.

The company also launched a Ultra - Mi LED Smart Bulb – that will be available through Amazon.in exclusively on Xiaomi’s website.

Complaints to the ombudsman rose 25pc in FY18

President and MD Manu Jain told mediapersons. The company now has well over 6,000 outlets and is continuing to expand its business to come from the offline route by the end of this year.

Xiaomi, which had started selling its smartphones on an omni-channel online-only brand in 2014, has now moved to a new retail format ‘Mi Studio’ in India. It is competing alongside with rival Samsung.

“About two years ago, we realised that while we had a 45pc share in online sales, our offline presence was negligible. That’s when we started our offline expansion,” Xiaomi President and MD Manu Jain told mediapersons.

In the December 2018 quarter, Xiaomi had sold 16.7m units in the same quarter that saw a total shipment of 60.3

Aye Finance reaches Rs 1,000 cr in AUM

Aye Finance, a Cap-AG-backed fintech platform, said on Friday its loans portfolio of about Rs 1,000 crore, which is 17pc of the total asset under management, is now five years of inception.

Cap-AG, earlier known as GE Capital, is the late-stage growth venture capital fund that helps companies grow faster with the support of GE’s global ecosystems. Aye was founded in 2013, and since then has disbursed Rs 6,784 crore across 2.1 million customers.

Aye has closed two rounds of equity, Series C and D, raised over Rs 350 crore and added Falcon Edge and Capital A in its suite of investors.

The company also received a total of 1,63,590 complaints during FY18 for seeking redressal. ATM and debit cards being involved in nearly 25pc, with non-observance of fair practices code and issues related to NDM and debit cards being the most common grounds for complaints.

Meanwhile, Indiabulls Real estate posted a 91pc net profit at Rs 588 crore for the fourth quarter in FY19, more than double the Rs 2,040.61 crore in the previous quarter of 2018-19 financial year from Rs 980.49 crore in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

As per research firm ICRISAT, the industry has expanded to include mis-selling of non-banking financial companies, with about 16pc of the complaints related to non-banking financial companies.

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has imposed higher pecuniary jurisdiction on the Ombudsman and a second office was also opened at Mumbai, taking the total offices to 21.

The data showed that the complaints received during the year were non-observance of fair practices code and issues related to NDM and debit cards being the most common grounds for complaints.
