TRUST IN THE FUTURE

KUALA LUMPUR: The government's move to cut expats will hit its economy, a new research note said. The note said that the removal of such a large number of foreign workers in one go will have a significant impact on the country's economy, especially in the blue-collar sector. It added that the employers might face challenges in finding suitable replacement workers.

The note also pointed out that the removal of expats will lead to a decrease in the number of workers, which could result in a shortage of labor. It also highlighted the importance of expats in maintaining the country's economy, as they contribute to various sectors such as construction, manufacturing, and services.

The note concluded by saying that the government should consider alternative measures to address the labor shortage, such as increasing the training opportunities for local workers or attracting more expats to the country.

NEW DELHI: The budget of this government has been submitted to the Parliament for its consideration. The budget includes provisions for essential government spending for a limited period of time known as a vote-on-account or appropriation. Income tax exemption limits for the fiscal year 2022-23 have also been announced in the budget presentation of this government. The exemption limits are as follows:

- Rs 2.5 lakh is exempt from the income tax.
- Rs 5 lakh attracts five percent tax.
- Rs 10 lakh attracts ten percent tax.
- Rs 25 lakh attracts fifteen percent tax.
- Rs 50 lakh attracts twenty percent tax.
- Above Rs 50 lakh is taxable at the higher twenty percent tax slab.

The expected increase in the income tax exemption limit will also help individuals and businesses to reduce their income tax liability. The government has also announced an extension of the income tax exemption limit for the current fiscal year.

Kuwait City: Kuwait's move to cut expats will adversely hit its economy. The Kuwaiti government has announced that it will reduce the number of expatriates in the country by 20 percent over the next two years. The move is part of the government's efforts to diversify the economy and reduce dependency on foreign workers.

The government has stated that the reduction in expatriates will lead to a decrease in the number of workers in the country, which could result in a labor shortage. It has also said that the reduction will have a positive impact on the local economy, as it will create more opportunities for local workers.

Mumbai: India's population growth and productivity have improved in recent years, according to a report by the National Council of Applied Economic Research (NCAER). The report finds that India's population growth is now less than the world average, and productivity has increased significantly.

The report notes that India's population growth rate has decreased from 1.7 percent in 2010-11 to 1.1 percent in 2018-19. It attributes this decrease to factors such as improved healthcare and education, and increased urbanization.

The report also notes that productivity has increased by 1.4 percent per year on average from 2000-01 to 2016-17. It attributes this increase to factors such as investment in infrastructure, technological advancements, and improved education.

Dubai: The Dubai Health Authority (DHCA) has announced changes in the regulations for medical professionals wishing to work in Dubai. The changes include the introduction of a new temporary working permit for medical professionals who wish to work in Dubai temporarily.

The new temporary working permit will allow medical professionals to work in Dubai for a limited period of time, without requiring them to obtain a full-time job offer or sponsorship. The permit will be valid for up to six months, and medical professionals will be required to obtain a new permit every three months, with the option to extend it for an additional three months.

The Dubai Health Authority has stated that the changes are part of its efforts to attract more medical professionals to work in Dubai and improve the quality of healthcare services in the city. The Authority has also stated that the new temporary working permit will help to reduce the number of medical professionals who are currently working in Dubai on a temporary basis.

Executive Officer of the cellor for NRTI, located in Berkeley, Cornell University, and St Petersburg Transport University, Russia. NRTI is focused on education related to transport and maritime studies, as well as research and development. Under the De Novo cat-egory in 2018, the institute has been established as a Deemed to be University in order to create a research pool of best-class profes-sionals for the country’s railway and transportation sector. Interestingly, the NRTI is the country’s first railway university and only third such university in the world after Russia and China.

The country’s first railway and transportation university had started two fully residential undergraduate courses from September 2018 onwards, namely, Civil Engineering and Transportation Technology (that is, eight hours every day is the norm. People who sleep less than six hours per night for adults or become dull and listless. “But that doesn’t mean you don’t get enough rest. The results in skin become dry much faster. Moreover, it will result in an increase in the level of cardiac diolesterol, which is dangerous for the body,” he adds.

Sleeping with this Gurmogan-based cosmetic surgeon Dr. DJS Tulla can save your skin from premature aging, cuticles, pores and tightening the skin. “If you are comfort-able or napping but slept less than eight hours per day, this time, but it is a myth,” says Dr. Suguna.

I have several accounts in Abu Dhabi with my bank, but only really use two of them. I have now found out that a third one has basically been closed by the bank and have been told that I do not need to use it anymore because I have not used it for a year. But there is money in this account. Apparently, the fact that I have not used it is not enough to keep it open and I have been told to go to a branch to see what they can do. I am travelling on business outside of the country for the next month, so this is no time for me to go and see what is going on. I am quite annoyed. I plan to make a complaint, but I would like to know the legal position in a situation like this. Can you advise?

It is fairly standard for a bank to close an account after a year if it is not used. If there are no transactions, then the bank may consider the account as dormant and close it. If you have not been informed about this and believe there is money in the account, you may be able to contest the closure. However, the bank has the right to close the account after a year if it has not been used.

Don’t work on visit visa

I came to UAE 10 months ago on a visit visa and managed to secure a job after a month. They had told me that we would process a two-year employment visa, but it has been continuous working, nothing materialised. I was planning to go back to my home country and keep asking to get my labour papers so that I at least know they were processing it, but they never came. The labour office won’t take our visa to do so before just their arrival, our company would call on visit visas to leave the building. Is it legal?

Article 11 of the Federal Law No. 5 of 1973 concerning the employment of foreigners states clearly that “the alien who is a holder of a visa to work in the country with or without pay or for his own benefit”. Additionally, by virtue of Federal Law No. 7 of 1985, any employee whose file of 650,000 per worker has been prescribed, in the event that the employer finds himself employing an individual on a visit visa, he shall be required to change the latter to a work visa and the balance due to the employee shall be paid. The law also states that no penalty can be applied to either the employee or his employer if the employee has been employed by the employer under the terms and conditions of the visit visa.

The fine prescribed with regards to this matter is the equivalent of five minimum wages of the worker per month.

2. Ministry approval: The signed offer letter with the approval of Emiratisation or local labour office known as External Affairs V K Singh said the PBD is normally held on Jan 9 every year to mark Mahatma Gandhi’s return to India in 1915.

For the first time in 2015, the PBD was held at the Indian Institute of Technology, Kharagpur. It was attended by Prime Minister N. Modi, who was the chief guest. The programme of activities included a cultural programme, a Walkathon, and a tree plantation ceremony. The event was attended by thousands of people, including students, faculty members, and alumni of IIT Kharagpur. The Prime Minister, who had visited the institute earlier in the year, said that the PBD would be held every year and that it would become a tradition.

Photography banned in Golden Temple

icials have banned photography from the Golden Temple, one of the most sacred places of worship in India. The temple management has taken this decision in a bid to protect the sanctity of the shrine. Visitors will now be allowed to take photos only after they have reached the temple. The move comes in response to complaints from devotees who felt that photography was disturbing the serene atmosphere of the temple. The decision has been welcomed by many who see it as a step towards maintaining the spiritual and religious values of the place.
