PMO wants disinvestment of Air India subsidiaries

The civil aviation ministry has told Air India to disinvest 20% of its financials for itself and its subsidiaries by end of June as the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) has decided to speed up the disinvestment process of three of its wings.

After a haggled-up attemtp to hold a meeting last year, a panel led by Home Secretary Ajay Bhalla had decided in June to start the process for the time being. It was then decided to fuse disinvestments into one entity to speed up the disinvestment process of raising resources by selling land assets and other subsidiaries. Air India has a total debt burden of around Rs 58,000 crore.

On April 1 this year, a new chairman of the disinvestment panel of the PMO under the chairman-ship of Nripendra Mishra, the principal secretary to the prime minister, had written to the ministry matter regarding strategic disinvestment of Air India subsidiaries. A meeting was held on April 11 under the chairmanship of the Principal Secretary to PM in which it was inter-alia on the process of disinvestment of Air India (AISL) and AAI.

Three subsidiaries of Air India’s Chairman Ashwani Lohani in a letter to the Civil Aviation and Air Transport Services Limited (AALTSL), Air India Engineering Services Limited (AIELS) and Airline Allied Services Limited (AASL) reiterated the need for disinvestment of Air India subsidiaries.

Khalora said that in order to proceed with disinvestment process of Air India and its subsidiaries, audited financials for 2018-19 will be required. “It would, therefore, be required by you kindly to furnish the audited financials for the financial year 2018-19 Finalised by end of June 2019. The disinvestment process also said that since the accounts for 2019-20 would form the ‘basis of decisions’, procurement of the investments are prepared with utmost caution so as to reflect the current financial condition of the companies,”

He added that continued non-jet Airways and swiftly verified. He added that “account receivables and payables” must be verified thrice a year.
